

Terms of Use

If you use this Canine Cruciate Registry (CCR), you are agreeing to comply with and be bound by the following terms and conditions of use, which together with our privacy policy govern the Canine Cruciate Registry's relationship with you in relation to this site. If you disagree with any part of these terms and conditions, please do not use our registry.

The terms 'Canine Cruciate Registry' or 'CCR' or 'us' or 'we' refer to RCVS Knowledge as the owner of the registry. The term 'you' or 'the operator' refers to you as the responsible user or viewer of our registry. It is your responsibility to ensure that these terms are met by any person to which you delegate the administration of the registry to.

The use of this online registry is subject to the following terms of use:

- The content of the pages of this website is for your general information and use only. It is subject to change without notice.
- This website contains material which is owned by or licensed to us. This material includes, but is not limited to, the methodology, the design, layout, look, appearance, and graphics. Reproduction is prohibited, without explicit consent, other than in accordance with the copyright notice, which forms part of these terms and conditions.
- All trademarks reproduced in this website, which are not the property of, or licensed to the operator, are acknowledged on the website.
- If the data provided by the CCR for more than one account holder is to be used in a publication, the CCR must be able to review the manuscript and must agree details of the submission including appropriate authorship, nomination of contact person and details of the review process to be followed for the manuscript. The CCR and Amplitude Clinical Outcomes must be acknowledged as the source of any published data.
- Where consensus between authors cannot be reached concerning the interpretation of the CCR data, the document will be circulated to the Registry Committees for discussion and resolution.
- It is acceptable to use data generated from personal clinical audit for publicity purposes. However, results should be updated regularly, and generated using the guidelines available separately on the registry website.
- Unauthorised use of this website may give rise to a claim for damages and/or be a criminal offence.
- From time to time, this website may also include links to other websites. These links are provided for your convenience to provide further information. They do not signify that we endorse the website(s). We have no responsibility for the content of the linked website(s) unless this is expressly stated.
- Your use of this website and any dispute arising out of such use of the website is subject to the laws of England, Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales.
- In accordance with the Computer Misuse Act 1990 and General Data Protection Regulations 2018, unauthorised access to this system is an offence.

Data Protection Policy

This registry enables the collection of data regarding patients undergoing treatment.

All data is subject to the General Data Protection Regulations and Data Protection Act (2018), and as such is collected under the following principles:

Each individual Veterinary Surgeon and RCVS Knowledge Canine Cruciate Registry are joint data controllers, therefore both are subject to the controller requirements set out under the General Data Protection Regulations. The data processor is Amplitude Clinical Outcomes.

As joint data controllers, RCVS Knowledge and the Veterinary Surgeon must comply with the Data Protection Act (2018) and the General Data Protection Regulations. These require data controllers to:

- Ensure appropriate security of login details, and to contact Amplitude Clinical Outcomes immediately if a breach of security is suspected.
- Ensure that explicit client consent is sought, given and recorded.
- Understand that failure to correctly indicate the acquisition of consent will lead to the deletion of identifying data upon your patients' records.
- Ensure all data is accurate, and up to date.
- Record only necessary and appropriate data.
- Only grant access to appropriate individuals under your account, and that you remain responsible for the data entry upon your patients entered by said individuals.
- Only download stored information via reports, for appropriate use. This can include but is not exclusive to audit, research, and teaching purposes.
- Ensure client-identifiable data is kept secure in accordance with the Data Protection Act (2018) at all times.
- Obtain specific ethical approval for data to be used for research.
- Ensure data breach processes and policies are up to date.
- Inform any other joint Data Controller(s) should a data breach occur.

By using the registry under these Terms and Conditions, you agree to anonymised use of your data for the purposes of the CCR's pursuance of the registry objectives.

Copyright Notice

The Canine Cruciate Registry website and its contents are copyright of RCVS Knowledge. The Canine Cruciate Registry software [pro registry™] is copyright of Amplitude Clinical Outcomes. All rights reserved. Any redistribution or reproduction of any part or all of the contents in any form is prohibited other than the following:

You may not, except with RCVS Knowledge's written express permission, distribute or commercially exploit the content, nor may you transmit it or store it in any other website or other form of electronic retrieval system.

Disclaimer

Every effort is made to keep the website running smoothly. However, neither Amplitude Clinical Outcomes nor RCVS Knowledge take responsibility for, nor will be liable for, the website being temporarily unavailable due to technical issues beyond our control.

The information provided is for educational purposes and does not override the responsibility of the practitioner. Informed decisions should be made by considering such factors as the current evidence base, individual clinical expertise and judgement along with patients' circumstances and owners' values when using the registry. While RCVS Knowledge believe that all content herein are in accord with current recommendations and practice at the time of publication, they accept no legal responsibility for any data inputting errors or omissions, and make no warranty, express or implied, with respect to material contained within.

Last updated: 10/03/2021